

The Book Club has been committed to taking the love for reading to all students and faculty members of the College. The year opened with a collaboration with Expression to curate a creative writing workshop on speculative fiction conducted by author Anil Menon. March witnessed a session with author Neharika Gupta featuring her work 'Adulthood'. The club collaborated with Your Queerly, the Queer collective of Kamala Nehru College to work towards the celebration of Pride with the help of literature. A collaboration with Cry For Help resulted in a discussion about positive and negative mental health representations in books during the month of October. In November, the members attended an Instagram Live session with Suruchi about the nuances of being a bookstagrammer. The end of the year witnessed collaboration with an NGO, Nirmaan wherein the members helped to spark children's imagination and to stimulate curiosity among them, amidst other things and trying to inculcate the value of books and stories among them.
